

The Law of Magnetic Impulse

The Law of Polar Union

The Law of Magnetic Impulse

We are not here concerned with the relation between forms, even though this relation is due to second ray energy. Nor are we occupied with considering the relation of soul to form, either that of the One Soul to the many forms, or of an individualised soul to its imprisoning form. –EP2:110

...it governs the binding of the pairs of opposites, the fusion of dualities, and the marriage of souls, and is the means of conscious contact existing between the many aspects of the One Soul. -EP2:110, 111

Then, under obedience to this law, humanity will act as a transmitter of light, energy and spiritual potency to the subhuman kingdoms, and will constitute a channel of communication between "that which is above and that which is below. Such is the high destiny before the race. –EP2:112

Just as the Law of Attraction, working on the physical plane, brought them together as men and women into one group effort, so the Law of Magnetic Impulse can begin to control them when, again as a group and only as a group, they unitedly constitute themselves channels for service in pure self-forgetfulness. –EP2:697

It is the Law of Attraction as it functions in the kingdom of souls.

On the third subplane of the mental plane egos are separated into groups—individual separation exists not, but group separation can be felt, incidental to ray and point in evolution.

On the second subplane the groups become merged and blend, and from their forty-nine groups are formed (by merging) forty-two. The process of synthesis might be tabulated as follows:

Mental plane	{ (1st subplane	35 groups, 7 x 5
	(2nd subplane	42 groups, 7 x 6

The subject of this magnetic interplay offers food for thought and indicates the way of group, and of individual service. As the individual aspirants lose sight of self in service, and as they arrive at the stage of indifference to personality claims and happenings, they learn to cherish a spirit of confidence, of joy and of love, deep and lasting, for each other; they learn to work together wholeheartedly for the helping of the world and the assistance of the Hierarchy. –EP2:117
